Where the Aegean takes center stage!

Set in Kalamissia, one of Syros' most beautiful and quietly privileged locations, this distinctive stone property is defined by one extraordinary element: the view. Spanning 250 sq.m. across two levels and set on a generous 4,000 sq.m. plot, Aurelle is designed around the landscape, with almost every independent living space opening towards the Aegean.

At ground level, two independent apartments each offer a bedroom, bathroom, kitchen, living area and private veranda overlooking the sea. They can remain completely independent or be seamlessly combined into one larger residence. A separate guest house adds further flexibility, with its own kitchen, bathroom and veranda. The upper level comprises two additional independent apartments, each featuring a mezzanine sleeping area for two, kitchen, living space, bathroom and, naturally, the same extraordinary outlook. The entire property is built in stone, giving it an authentic Cycladic character and a strong sense of permanence. Yet its greatest asset is not found within the walls.

It is what happens when you step outside. You sit on the veranda, look across the Aegean, and simply loose track of time.

With its multiple independent units, generous land and exceptional setting, the property offers considerable potential for professional use, boutique hospitality or a private multi-generational retreat — while retaining the rare possibility of becoming one unified residence. A property shaped by its view. And a view that becomes the experience itself. Syros is where Cycladic beauty meets authentic island life. A refined blend of timeless architecture, crystal-clear waters and year-round character and just a short ferry ride from Athens, yet worlds away.
